

Very Good

You did first things first.
You dreamed up the earth.
And with just a word,
you made it so, so good.

All the stars aligned,
just like in your mind.
Everything in time,
you made it so, so good.

Everything in its place,
filling up empty space.
Marveling at what you made, we say,
“You made it all; you made it very good.”

Sudden bursts of life, everywhere in sight.
Water, earth, and sky.
You made it so, so good.
Everything in its place,
filling up empty space.
Marveling at what you made, we say,
“You made it all; you made it very good.”
Then to care for all this wonder,
you made us of breath and the dust.
And we were made to need each other,
perfectly reflecting your love.

So, everything is in its place.
All your words are taking shape.
So, we give thanks for every day and say,
“You made it all; you made it very good.”
